Foreword from the Shire President

The Carnarvon Shire is an area of great social, cultural and spiritual importance to the Thalanji, Baiyungu, Thudgari, Yinggarda, Malgana and Wajarri peoples. Carnarvon sits approximately 4m above sea level and is positioned right on the edge of WA's Coral Coast, in the centre of the Shark Bay and Ningaloo World Heritage Areas with the mighty Gascoyne River meandering through the middle. It is these natural features, along with superb dry tropic climate, which supported the ancestral homes of many Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples for thousands of years.

Moving forward to 2022, the Carnarvon Shire is now home to many people; all contributing to a thriving and connected community. This Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) serves as the first step towards providing genuine reconciliation between Council and the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples across our Region. I look forward to the delivery of this important document and the benefits it will provide for not only Council and the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples of our region but our greater community.

Shire President Eddie Smith

Our Business

The Shire of Carnarvon is positioned right on the edge of WA's Coral Coast and is the only town in Australia where the central desert reaches out to the sea. Whilst the town of Carnarvon is the administrative centre, our Region includes the townships of Exmouth, Coral Bay, Gascoyne Junction Shark Bay and Carnarvon.

Our Administrative Centre, Library, Camel Lane Theatre and Visitor Information Centre all located in close proximity provide customers with frontline services whilst our Depot ensure our physical and natural environments are enhanced and protected.

Our 94 strong workforce is led by two Directorates which contribute to our mission to meet the needs of our community through the timely and economical provision of quality infrastructure services.

Shire of Carnarvon currently employs 15.1% staff who identify as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander people, Council, as part of its reconciliation journey is committed to continuing to support these employees and future employees.

The Office of the Chief Executive Officer supports disaster management, tourism, trade and investment and elected member services. The Development and Community Services Directorate leads community development and regional development. The Infrastructure Services Directorate contributes to Council's facilities, fleet, waste, water and sewer services as well as maintenance and construction of our extensive road network.

Our Reconciliation Action Plan

Being the first RAP for the Shire of Carnarvon, our organization is taking an initial step on the journey to reconciliation by focusing on learning, promoting and celebrating more about the world's oldest continuing cultures, and by building our cultural competency. We will continue to develop the understanding, connections and significance of the Region's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and their connection with Council and the greater community. Through the actions and deliverables of this Reconciliation Action Plan, Council through its people, will endeavor to create positive and meaningful advancements in our reconciliation journey towards an even more prosperous community. Our RAP Champion, Andrea Selvey (Chief Executive Officer) will be responsible for driving internal engagement and awareness of the RAP. Through our Corporate Business Plan 2018-2022 and Strategic Community Plan 2018-2028, community is a key priority area. We aim to be an inclusive and engaged resilient community, with access to services and facilities that enable a safe and healthy lifestyle. Key initiatives under this initial RAP will focus on communicating our commitment to reconciliation within our organization and the community, increasing understanding of the reconciliation journey, identifying Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander stakeholders and organizations within our local area for collaborative opportunities. It also includes taking steps towards researching and understanding the profile of our reconciliation journey in relation to the needs of our local community.
